American Academy of Pediatrics
DEDICATED TO THE HEALTH OF ALL CHILDREN™

WHAT IS AM:PREP®?

AM:PREP® is a comprehensive review of adolescent medicine for both the subspecialist and the primary care clinician. For the adolescent medicine specialist, the course is designed as a preparatory education program based on the major headings of the content outline developed by the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP), the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM), and the American Board of Family Medicine (ABFM) for their subspecialty examination in adolescent medicine, as well as for Maintenance of Certification™ (MOC). For general pediatricians, family physicians, internists, nurse practitioners and other allied health professionals, and other clinicians, the course is designed to enable participants to apply adolescent medicine updates and case presentations readily in their own practice settings. AM:PREP® will provide a forum for informal learning in small group settings, through interaction with faculty and by networking with colleagues.

BY PARTICIPATING IN THIS COURSE, YOU WILL:

- Develop an evidence-based approach to the evaluation and treatment of common adolescent health issues
- Prepare for the subspecialty certifying examination or Maintenance of Certification™ (MOC) in adolescent medicine
- Implement skills learned in interviewing adolescents in sensitive topic areas

WHY SHOULD YOU ATTEND AM:PREP®?

- Experience an intensive review of adolescent medicine topics to help you understand and manage your patients' illnesses more effectively and efficiently.
- Engage in meaningful interaction with colleagues and a nationally renowned faculty of experts.

- Attend plenary lectures and small-group breakout sessions that are designed to address the most salient aspects of the content specifications for the subspecialty examination in adolescent medicine developed by the ABP, the ABIM, and the ABFM, and receive a comprehensive syllabus that, in conjunction with the oral presentations, will cover at least 80% of these specifications. The wide-ranging coverage of adolescent medicine issues will serve as a useful resource during and after the course.
- Enhance your ability to diagnose and manage complex or difficult cases through interactive case analysis.
- Participate in a variety of learner-centered formats that will assist in organizing your knowledge and competence in adolescent medicine.
- Participate in case-based presentations that will allow you to apply the information learned readily in your own practice.

All potential conflicts of interest are identified and resolved prior to an individual's confirmation of service at an AAP CME activity. Beyond disclosure of financial relationships, AAP CME faculty are required to disclose to the AAP and to learners when they plan to discuss or demonstrate pharmaceuticals and/or medical devices and/or medical or surgical procedures that involve "off-label" use of a device or pharmaceutical. The AAP is committed to providing learners with commercially unbiased CME activities.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF PEDIATRICS (AAP)

The AAP is an organization of 60,000 primary care pediatricians, pediatric medical subspecialists, and pediatric surgical specialists committed to the attainment of optimal physical, mental, and social health and well-being for all infants, children, adolescents, and young adults.

AAP SECTION ON ADOLESCENT HEALTH (SOAH)

The SOAH has a long and effective history of providing educational materials for the practicing physician as well as advocating within the AAP on issues affecting the health of adolescents. Section members, whether general pediatricians or those with a special interest and expertise in the field, form the backbone of the section.

The SOAH is one of the largest and most active sections of the AAP. They publish a newsletter, maintain an active Web site with periodic updates pertaining to adolescent health, and present an outstanding academic program at each year's National Conference and Exhibition (NCE). Arguably the most visible benefit of section membership is the subscription to the journal, Adolescent Medicine: State of the Art Reviews, published three times a year by the AAP.

Continued vibrancy of the SOAH can only be achieved with a solid membership base. Membership is open to Fellows and Resident Members of the AAP who are actively involved in some aspect of the study of adolescent health and health-care delivery and who are interested in contributing toward the objectives of the section. The SOAH currently has over 500 members.

To join the Section, call the AAP Department of Membership at 800/433-9016, or visit www.aap.org/adolescenthealth.

THE SOCIETY FOR ADOLESCENT HEALTH AND MEDICINE (SAHM)

Founded in 1968, the Society for Adolescent Health and Medicine

(SAHM) is a multidisciplinary organization committed to improving the physical and psychosocial health and well-being of all adolescents through advocacy, clinical care, health promotion, health service delivery, professional development, and research.

VISION STATEMENT

The Society for Adolescent Health and Medicine will be the leader in promoting optimal health and well-being for adolescents and young adults.

CORE VALUES

Recognizing that health is more than the absence of disease, the Society for Adolescent Health and Medicine (SAHM) promotes positive youth development, illness prevention, achievement of individual potential, and a sense of physical, mental, and social well-being.

In its pursuit of optimal adolescent health and developmentally-appropriate health care, SAHM believes that scientific research provides the evidence base for effective health promotion as well as prevention and treatment of illness and injury. Four core values underlie SAHM's Mission and Vision:

- Excellence: SAHM strives to achieve the highest attainable standard in its mission.
- Leadership: SAHM strives to be the preeminent organization and authoritative voice in advancing adolescent health by increasing awareness of the health needs of adolescents and young adults through effective advocacy, communication, and dissemination of knowledge.
- Integrity: SAHM is guided by the highest ideals and ethical standards, including respect for individual dignity, equity, and justice, and recognition that age-appropriate, developmentally sensitive health care is a right and not a privilege.
- Collaboration: SAHM recognizes that advancing adolescent health depends upon effective partnerships among adolescents, families, health professionals, public and private sectors, communities, schools, and other social institutions.

For information about membership in SAHM, visit the Web site at www.adolescenthealth.org or send an email to sahm@adolescenthealth.org.

As part of your registration, you will receive course materials that support and augment information provided in the educational sessions. This comprehensive syllabus is designed to be a valuable take-home reference tool. You will receive your syllabus onsite.

CANCELLATIONS

Cancellations must be received by January 6, 2012, to receive a refund. An administrative charge of $50 will be deducted.

UNABLE TO ATTEND?

While nothing can replace the experience of being at AM:PREP®, not everyone can attend in person. To meet your needs, audio/visual recordings of the lectures and concurrent sessions will be available for purchase following the course. To order the recordings on CD, flash drive, or MP3 player, visit Digital Conference Providers, Inc., online at www.dcporder.com/aap or call 630/963-8311. Orders will not be accepted online until two to three weeks after the course has ended.

SYLLABUS

In consideration of our environment, the syllabus for AM:PREP® will be distributed to all attendees in an electronic format. The electronic media will contain all of the PowerPoint presentations for the various educational sessions along with other useful information. If you are interested in viewing the contents of the electronic media while in Orlando, we encourage you to bring a laptop computer.

Because the AAP understands that individuals have different learning styles, you may choose to order a printed copy of the syllabus if you prefer that format. If you would like a printed copy of the syllabus, please select that option on the course registration form. Please note that an additional fee of $75 applies. Also, to receive a printed syllabus in Orlando, you must register by January 6, 2012.

Note: There may be printed copies of the syllabus available for purchase onsite or after the course; however, quantities will be limited. The price for a printed syllabus ordered onsite or after the course is $150.

ORLANDO, FLORIDA

When your meetings and educational sessions end for the day, you'll want to relax and recharge. But not everyone plays at the same speed. That's why Orlando has entertainment options for everyone to enjoy. Among the many choices: fine dining, exclusive and budget-minded shopping, hot nightlife, sensuous spas, endless rounds of golf, and of course, world-famous theme parks and attractions. Aquatica, Sea World's water park, immerses guests in the playfulness of the sea. Aquatica's signature attraction plunges riders in tubes through a crystal-blue lagoon that is home to playful dolphins. Families will enjoy the water park whether they want to "dive in" or not. In addition, Orlando is a virtual year-round summer of outdoor fun. With more than 2,000 lakes, springs and rivers, the area offers unlimited boating, canoeing, tubing, jet-skiing, and water-skiing opportunities. Numerous ecotours offer an insider's look at natural Florida, from cruises through the headwaters of the Everglades to bird- and gator-spotting excursions. Shopping is a thrill ride of its own in Central Florida, where a wealth of fashion-forward stores, boutiques, and outlets are a gold mine for visitors. Don't miss The Mall at Millenia, Park Avenue in Winter Park, and the Florida Mall. For more information about the area, go to www.visitorlando.com.
